

ITN - On-The-Job Training

Program Overview: On the Job Training

Recognizing that most new employees need time on the job before they become fully productive, we can pay up to 50 percent of their wages for up to six months while you teach them to do their job. Whether you are a small business owner with limited budget for training new employees, or a personnel manager for a large company who is having trouble in matching the proper workers to specialized job slot, our On-The-Job Training (OJT) Program can assist you.

Program Overview Employed Worker Training Program:

The Employed Worker Training (EWT) Program can help a business offset training costs for current employees who require skill upgrading to maintain their current employment. This may include training on new equipment, product lines, internal management changes, safety, etc. Employers may be reimbursed for instructor costs and training materials. The employed worker is an individual who is served at the local level using local funds allocated to CareerSource Escarosa by the State of Florida.

CareerSource Escarosa is interested in soliciting businesses that would like to expand take advantage of the opportunity to train new workers or upgrade the skills of current worker in their workplace. The anticipated funding runs through June 30, 2022. Your business must be in Escambia or Santa Rosa County to take advantage of these training funds.
